

This Month's Learning & Activities

Our theme for November is be Transportation. We will be looking at the different means of transportation such as cars, bicycles, boats, ship, aeroplane and motorcycle etc. and the sounds they make. We will be looking at how we travel to places, and activities associated with transport.

Transition

From time to time we may move your child to another room if they are getting ready to transit to that room or if we feel that they will benefit from mingling with other children in that room. Please be reassured that their welfare and developmental requirement will continue to be met irrespective of where they are. Any change to your child's key persons will be updated on Babysdays for your information and as well on the key person board in each room. You can also stop by the office to get this information.

Birthdays

Thomas McNulty, Isla Robinson and Beaux Wardle

Policy of the Month

This month we are continuing to focus on the Child protection (Safeguarding) Policy at our monthly staff meeting in view of the latest updates by Ofsted. An abbreviated copy of the policy is available on our parent information board, please feel free to ask for the comprehensive version in the office.

Nursery News

*We have continued to work tirelessly with the local authority Early Years support team and our independent consultants to improve our practice in line with Ofsted suggestions. You will shortly be receiving a full update of all our actions and the achievements.

*We are pleased to inform you that Lesley Peacock will be joining us as the nursery manager.

*Nicole Grundy and Hannah Clifford have now left to progress their careers in a different area of the sector, please join us in wishing them all the best in the future.

*Can all parents please be reminded of our exclusion period in the case of illnesses, this is to avoid cross contamination with other children and staff as well as the spread of infection. Further information can be obtained from the office or the NHS website.
